The tour begins with L' aventure visit Sugar which opens its doors to its museum dedicated to the history of sugar cane in Mauritius. The tour continues with a visit to the Botanical Garden and then Port Louis the capital of Mauritius crossroads of cultures, flavors and traditions that have marked the island through the many historic buildings that line the streets. By late morning, the Caudan Waterfront complex is waiting for some shopping.

L' Aventure du Sucre, an old sugar mill converted into interactive museum invites you to discover the great epic of the sugar industry in Mauritius.

The hotel Government

The Government House, the most important building in the political life of Mauritius, was built by Mahé de Labourdonnais in 1740. It is a pretty colonial masonry. In the courtyard there is a statue of Queen Victoria.

Chinatown

You're in a small China in Mauritius. There are small shops and boutiques where you can buy traditional medicines and where you can take a Chinese meal in one of many restaurants.

Fort Adelaide

Since Fort Adelaide can enjoy a fantastic panoramic view over the capital. The fort was built by the English in 1840. Today it often produces concerts and outdoor festivities.

Marie Reine de la Paix

Marie Reine de la Paix is a center of pilgrimage Mauritius. This outdoor sanctuary offers a magnificent view of Port Louis and the mountains of Signals in the background.

Caudan Waterfront

Since 1998 Caudan Waterfront is another popular destination in Port Louis. In the entertainment center there are numerous shops and boutiques, restaurants, a five-star hotel and casino. Thus Caudan Waterfront invites visitors to stroll, to go shopping and have fun. In the harbor basin can watch the beautiful yachts.
